THE SONNET - Wallingford-Swarthmore School District THE SONNET. A sonnet is a lyric poem of fourteen lines, following one or another of several set rhyme-schemes. Critics of the sonnet have recognized varying classifications, but to all essential purposes two types only need be discussed if the student will understand that each of these two, in turn, has undergone various modifications by experimenters. The Sonnet: Poetic Form | Academy of American Poets The Sonnet: Poetic Form - Traditionally, the sonnet is a fourteen-line poem written in iambic pentameter, which employ one of several rhyme schemes and adhere to a tightly structured thematic organization. Two sonnet forms provide the models from which all other sonnets are formed: the Petrarchan and the Shakespearean. Petrarchan Sonnet.

Sonnet â€“ Page 3 â€“ Fourteen Lines Levertov penned an interesting explanation of why modern poetry evolved in the 20th century beyond the confines of more formal metrical structure like sonnets. In it she wrote: I do not mean to imply that I consider modern, nonmetrical poetry â€œbetterâ€• or â€œsuperiorâ€• to the great poetry of the past, which I love and honor.
